

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has implemented new requirements that standardize the Hazardous Waste Manifest Form and its continuation sheet (Forms 8700-22 and 22a). The mandatory use of the new Federal Uniform Hazardous Waste Manifest is effective September 5, 2006. Existing forms must be used until September 4, 2006. These new requirements also forbid the use of individual state generated manifests.

Hazardous waste handlers can obtain the new blank manifest forms from sources (i.e., registered printers) that have been authorized by EPA to print and distribute the forms.

Additional information, including authorized sources and instructions for completing the hazardous waste manifest and continuation sheet, is available at:
